AN INTERESTING CONTEST.

Politicians will be interested in the result of the contest between Representative Cannon, of Illinois, and the two Senators from that State, the determination of which rests with the President. The issue involves the rights of Senators and Representatives in the matter of appointments under certain circumstances. An Internal Revenue collector was appointed on the recommendation of Representative Cannon without either of the Senators being consulted, and they have another candidate for the position. The office is in the district represented by Cannon, where is also the home of Senator Farwell. On this account the Senator claimed he should have been consulted before an appointment was made. The Senators have united in a written protest against the appointment, which was sent to the Secretary of the Treasury, and will be submitted to the President. The protest does not relate to the person appointed, but to the policy of ignoring Senators where the territory of the office is partly Senatorial territory.

The decision of the President in this case will be of general interest, and particularly so to every Senator and Representative. If the appointment made is adhered to, it will be regarded as a precedent for giving Representatives greater consideration than heretofore in the distribution of patronage, while if it is revoked the power of Senators will be increased. The importance of a decision on this issue is, therefore, obvious, and it imposes a somewhat delicate duty on the President. In considering this controversy the question suggests itself whether men charged by the Constitution with the duty of passing judgment on appointments ought to have anything to do with procuring them. As bearing upon the subject a late Washington dispatch reads as follows:

Senator Farwell went to the White House today in company with Asa Matthews to follow up his written protest against the appointment of Dr. Wilcox as Internal Revenue Collector for the Springfield district. He spent half an hour with President Harrison, but when Representative Cannon slipped up to the Executive Mansion later in the day he found that there was danger of Wilcox losing the place. He had gained. Senator Farwell told the President that he thought it outrageous treatment of Senator Cannon for the Collector in his home district to be selected as had been done. Besides this he felt some personal interest, as he had been anxious to see Dr. Cannon appointed. The President replied that the administration had been at pains to oblige both the Illinois Senators in a number of matters, and he was of the belief that it was right to consult the Representatives also in certain affairs. Senator Farwell replied that if a new precedent was to be set regarding Senatorial patronage he should not quarrel with it, but he wanted to understand the situation clearly. The interview was frank on both sides and was without any show of temper.

The supposed causes of the taking off of Allen Thorndyke Rice are exciting great attention among the medical profession. One of the doctors who discusses the case asks whether death may have been produced by heart failure, and whether the edema may not have been due to a too vigorous sedative treatment. Another medical man implies that in the report of the autopsy, edema of the lungs was given as the cause of death in order to disguise the fact that treatment of edema of the throat had not been such as it ought to have been. Drs. Fuller, Keyes and Goldwaite all declare there is no ground for these insinuations that Mr. Rice was not treated properly by them. They insist that the trouble was entirely with the lungs.

A Washington Dispatch says Secretary Noble is having considerable difficulty in securing his ideal of a man to complete the Cherokee Commission. It is evident that Secretary Noble has not studied the geography of his country, and is unacquainted with the people. Now, there is Reno—but beg your pardon.—Enterprise.

Not at all, there is many a truth spoken in jest. Reno could furnish Secretary Noble a number of good and able men for the position. Ex-Chief Justice Leonard, Judge S. D. King, Col. R. H. Lundberg, Judge Boardman, Judge Webster, R. L. Fulton, and others the JOURNAL might mention would average up with whomever the Secretary may select to compose the Commission.

Moritz Halstead passed through Washington Wednesday on his way to Germany, where his family is located. The fact that Frederick D. Mussey, correspondent at large of Mr. Halstead's paper, has been put in editorial charge of that publication, lends color to the report that Halstead will be appointed Minister to Berlin during his absence from this country. Halstead had a long interview with the President before leaving Washington.

It appears that since 1874 about thirty thousand enlisted men have deserted from the United States Army; an average of about two thousand a year, or nearly 10 per cent annually. This may be attributed to one or more of three causes—errors in enlistment; dissatisfaction with the service and opportunities for doing better outside of it.

John Wamamaker conducts his big Philadelphia house on the profit-sharing principle. Friday night he made his semi-annual dividend, distributing $44,192 among the 400 employees entitled to share. The amount divided during the year was $104,000. It is not believed that he will conduct the Washington establishment on the same plan.

Owing to Mrs. Russell Harrison's delicate health, it is believed that the President's son will not return to Montana to live, but will make New York his home.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the District Court in the Wedekind case.

THE SIOUX RESERVATION LANDS.

The Fertile Territory in Northern Nebraska and Southern Dakota which is likely to be thrown open to settlement.

The instructions for the Sioux commission, which have been under preparation for some weeks by the Indian Department, have been given to the three commissioners, writes a western correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. It will now be strange if the stream of emigration started in the direction of Oklahoma, only to be checked and thrown backward at the discovery of the limited quantity of land available there, is not directed to the northwest by the opening of the great Sioux reservation in Dakota. The reservation, which is expected to be opened in the course of a month or two, comprises 9,300,000 acres of land. It is owned by the Sioux tribe. The land to be purchased lies in the southern portion of Dakota and on the northern boundary line of Nebraska.

Several ineffectual attempts have been made in years gone by to negotiate with the Indians for this land. Last year a commission was appointed to purchase the lands, but the Sioux chiefs refused to accept the price offered—50 cents per acre. Later in the season the heads of several of the Sioux tribes were called to Washington to appear before the Secretary of the Interior and state to him on just what grounds they will be willing to dispense with that part of their grounds which is unused by them. The chiefs demanded $1 25 per acre and the immediate payment of the whole sum. They were assured by Secretary Vilas that they would be given proper consideration by the department and legislation recommended which would be so conditioned as to prohibit the taking of any of their lands without their consent.

The law by which he consent of the Indians is to be obtained is exactly like that of last year, except in these three particulars: First, in distributing cattle, farming implements and money to Indians who wish allotments the cash payment is increased from $20 to $50 each. Second, the price paid for land is set in the old bill as 50 cents per acre in this it is $1 for that taken the first three years; 75 cents for that taken the next three years, and 50 cents for all that taken thereafter, with the proviso that the Government must buy all that remains after ten years. Third, the immediate appropriation to create a fund for the benefit of the Indians to be repaid out of proceeds of sales of land is increased from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000. The sections numbered 16 and 35 of each township of the lands open to settlement, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, are to be reserved for the use and benefit of the public schools, as provided by the act organizing the Territory of Dakota.

The law provided an appropriation of $25,000, which sum shall be expended under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior for procuring the assent of the Sioux Indians. The commission to procure this assent is composed of General Crook, William Warner and Charles Foster. The instructions to the commission differ little from the last, except they are less in detail and leave more to the discretion of the commission. The plan of the Secretary has been to seek good men for commissioners and then leave them to work as much as possible in their own way. The department is quite confident of the success of the intended negotiations, and that confidence is generally shared by northwestern men here. The Indians have already indicated their intention to accede to the provisions of the bill, and will probably unhesitatingly give their consent and allow the land to be opened to settlement, civilization and prosperity.

There is no free land in the Sioux reservation, and it will have no attraction for the improvident boomers, who want to get a farm for nothing. But for the thrifty settler with a little money it offers the most promising location now open to Government land in the whole world. If the negotiations with the Sioux are as successful as they are almost certain to be this region will be open to settlement nearly as soon as the Cherokee strip and as early as many of those disappointed in Oklahoma can conveniently reach there. It is accessible from Nebraska on the south as well as from Minnesota on the east, without crossing the Indian country or encountering any of the complicated delays and embarrassments incident to emigration to Oklahoma. Almost before the settlement of the reservation is to begin it will come under the jurisdiction of the new State government of South Dakota and enjoy all the advantages of social order and material well being such a government is competent to guarantee. Oklahoma is without an organized government of any sort, and must remain so for at least a year. It can look forward to statehood only as a remote future possibility. The settler in Dakota will send Senators and Representatives to Congress to legislate for Oklahoma for perhaps a generation. This is worth taking into account among the other considerations influencing the action of the home-seekers.

Nearing the Jumping off Place.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Kentucky, Mississippi, Texas and two or three other States of the South will probably go Democratic for a few years more. But the Democrats cannot afford to throw many votes away in any of them.

Severe Winter in Iceland.

The winter in Iceland has been unusually severe. When, the other day, the first post ship of the season broke through the ice floes and reached Reykjavik, the first question asked by the natives was whether Prince Bismarck was still alive.

Cashier of the Mint.

Allen C. Bragg will be Cashier of the Carson Mint under Sept. Wright. The salary is $2,000 per annum, and the Journal rejoices in the appointment. Mr. Bragg will fill the bill satisfactorily, and at the same time do valuable work for his newspaper.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-21-17.

REASON SHAKEN.

Distressing Rumor Regarding the Health of Superintendent Sam Jones of the Crown Point and Belcher Mines.

It is currently reported that Samuel L. Jones, so long the efficient Superintendent of the Crown Point and Belcher mines and of late years Superintendent of the Seg. Belcher mine, intends to resign from those positions. In health and consequent inability to be at his post of duty are the attributed causes of this action. Mr. Jones, it is said, realizes that during his long absence the work in the mines is not so vigorously pushed and does not receive that intelligent supervision which would be exercised by a man of his careful training and long experience, and that as all this militates against the interests of the companies whose officer he is, and occasionally causes great harm to the stock market, he has fully decided upon this step. The report hopes that Mr. Jones may recover his health so as to renounce this intention and once more give his entire attention to the mines.—S. F. Report.

The Enterprise comments:

It is with sorrow that we credit the rumors that Sam Jones is suffering from an affection of the brain. No sadder subject can be brought to mind, and particularly in the case of a man who has been foremost in the greatest mining ventures of the age—and that was Sam Jones.

Sam Jones may resign, but not because his reason is shaken. His mind is as strong and vigorous as it ever was, and the report above given currency to is without a particle of foundation. Sam has worked very hard for thirty years, and he has determined to take it easy the remainder of his three score and ten.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by cheap John Jones or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at that price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BLOOD PURIFIER AND SKIN MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE of Nevada, in and for Washoe County. The State of Nevada sends to Hugh J. Mohan—GARRISON:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Louis Mohan as plaintiff, in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county; or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases, forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded. In testimony whereof, I, T. F. Julien, the seal of said Court, this 23d day of May, A. D. 1889.

What Dan DeQuille Says of It.

In his latest book, "A History of the Comstock Mines," Dan DeQuille says of Reno: "Reno, on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, and pleasantly situated on the banks of the beautiful Truckee river, is the county seat of Washoe county. Reno began to be a town in 1858, and under the influence of the Central Pacific Railroad, it grew very rapidly. The town at once became the shipping point of all goods, machinery and supplies destined for the Comstock mines, and for all parts of Storey, Lyon, Ormsby and Douglas counties; also for Susanville, Honey Lake valley, and a great scope of country to the northward. In the days before the completion of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad, Reno was filled with teams and stage coaches. The place was a sort of teamsters' paradise. This was good for the town, but it could not be expected to last forever. The present ambition of the place is to become a railroad and manufacturing center. It has the Virginia and Truckee road leading southward, while to the northward the Nevada and California is fast advancing to completion.

"Reno is the center of one of the finest agricultural and grazing sections in the State, and is a point for the shipment to California of immense numbers of beef cattle. Although there are in the town large and fine reduction works for smelting refractory ores, and two flouring mills, it may be said that hardly a commencement has been made toward the utilization of the immense water power afforded by the Truckee river at and near the town.

"Here is located the Nevada Insane Asylum, the building and grounds of which do credit to the town and State. The State University is also now located at Reno (having been removed from Elko), and is in a more flourishing condition than ever before. The buildings, and grounds, and teachers are all that could be desired. This institution has recently been made an Agricultural Experiment Station. Here is located Bishop Whitaker's excellent school for young ladies, and also a similar school, first-class, in charge of the Sisters of Charity. There are, besides, five public schools. The town is well supplied with churches and public buildings of all kinds adequate to present requirements.

"The town contains many first-class fire-proof business houses, five depots and railroad buildings, many attractive retail stores and shops, excellent and commodious hotels, 'palatial' saloons, and handsome and comfortable private residences. It is lighted with electrical lamps, has good water works, and almost everything else that its public-spirited citizens have thought it necessary to provide. It has two excellent daily newspapers, the Gazette and Journal, and a first-class theater. This Spring (1889) there has been in the place a boom in town property, and much building is in progress. Not only is the town on the highway of the nations of the world leading east and west, but is on the highway of the Pacific Coast leading north and south, along the great range of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, from Oregon to Arizona. The present population is estimated at 5,000 souls."

WASHOE COUNTY.

The Banner County of the Silver State—its Climate, Soil, Water and Products.

The issue of the Pacific Coast Commercial Record, of May 20th, contains the annexed description of Washoe county, and its perusal will be found time well expended:

ITS GROWTH AND PROMISE.

Washoe county is in all respects, one of the best and most improved in the State, and her flourishing towns and valleys are filled with handsome homes, and well improved ranches, a view of which is refreshing and surprising to any one who, as do most in the East have thought of the State of Nevada as only a barren waste of sand and mountains. Here, as in Southern California, Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico, the land which was so long regarded as desert, waste and useless for any agricultural purposes, has been found, when properly supplied with water, to be exceedingly fertile, and to be capable of sustaining an enormous population.

IRRIGATION.

The water is at hand in the greatest abundance. The Truckee river runs entirely across the southern portion of the county, then turns north and empties into Pyramid lake. From the mountains on either hand descend thousands of mountain streams, fed by the snow which caps the peaks. Lakes abound, both large and small. The great question now awaiting solution, that Washoe may become fully recognized as a wealthy agricultural region, as well as wealthy in minerals, is "How can the water be most economically spread over the land?"

The success of irrigation in Colorado and California has been no greater than in Washoe, Nevada, so far as tried. It is leading to the same results. A score of ditches are afoot to store water in various places generally in the canyons in the mountains, and to convey it to the land by suitable ditches and flumes.

From all the study given to the problem good results will surely come. To accomplish the best results, however, the work should be carefully and systematically done, and on a large scale. This means, of course, the expenditure of much money and intelligent thought, and the co-operation of many interested. But it will surely come. This country is still very young, and it is indeed marvellous that so much has been accomplished in so short a time. Already the wide-awake people who compose the communities here see that it should be done, and that it will pay handsomely. They have the brains and the energy—they will get the money. It will be done in good time.

Already hay and live stock are among the most important industries of the county, but with proper irrigation, tens of thousands of acres that are now used for grazing purposes would be devoted to the production of grasses and grains.

The population is steadily increasing, and is now nearly as dense as is usual in grazing countries, but with proper irrigation and water easily accessible, the population would increase enormously, and become devoted to a great variety of agricultural industries. Increased population would soon stimulate manufacture, and utilization of the magnificent water power of the Truckee river, which, with its great fall, large volume and rocky shores, might well supply a score of factories at every half-mile of its stretch across the county.

The soil is rich and wonderfully productive. Grasses and grains of all kinds flourish luxuriantly. Vegetables are raised in abundance, not only for the home market, but for shipment to adjacent mountain towns. The quality of Washoe potatoes can not be excelled in any country or climate. It is not uncommon to see them weighing 3½ to 4½ pounds, and these large ones are not a mere overgrowth, but are solid and of a fine meaty quality.

FRUIT.

Fruits and berries are grown in great quantities, at a good profit to the producer. Currants, blackberries, strawberries and raspberries are all good crops. Apples, peaches, cherries and plums do well, and several hundred acres in the county are devoted to orchard over and above the trees planted simply for family use. Apples are shipped to California. A. E. Ross shipped in one season 3,500 boxes, and Mr. McDermitt 5,200 boxes of red apples, for the market seems to demand red ones.

HAY.

Hay has become one of the great products of the county, alfalfa and timothy being the principal varieties. In 1888 the county yielded over 50,000 tons, which sold for an average of $9.50 per ton. It is a common thing for hay growers to cut three crops of good hay each season, and it is called a poor year when they get but two crops. Timothy hay is very thrifty, and on account of the dry atmosphere it cures well, retaining its nutriment to the very highest degree. Several hundred tons of it have been shipped to New York, even at a cost of $100 per ton for freight, for feed for race horses and fancy stock, as it gave superior nerve and strength to the animals, with no danger of over-feeding or of feverish heat.

Alfalfa, the most marvellous of all grasses, grows to perfection, yielding generally from 4 to 6 tons per acre, and frequently 8 tons. It is easily grown under proper conditions, and once sown it is a permanent crop. It is so nutritious that even in hard mountain work it is sufficient feed without grain, and, most wonderful to relate, its blossom is the best food par excellence, and produces the finest honey bees ever fed their queens upon, or an epicure ever spread over his buckwheat cakes.

LIVE STOCK.

Much attention is now given to raising high grade stock. Fine bulls have been imported for several years, and now the importation of high-bred strains is attracting much attention, while the average product of the State has risen very much and now stands high. In the same way with horses, the most attention being given to the Percheron, or heavy French draft horse. Fine stallions have been imported at great expense, and by carefully handling the best bred stock, the product of this section has already won marked attention from dealers everywhere.

Poiled Angus and Galloway cattle and Spanish merino sheep are being handled in the same way, and soon the cattle industry will assume the proportions warranted by the fine grass, water and climate. It is being most intelligently conducted, and the State at large will owe much to Wm. Thompson, Russell & Bradley, E. C. Hardy, Theo. Winters, Ross Lewers, and other such live and careful men, who take an interest in it.

CLIMATE.

The following extract from the report of the Surveyor General of the State presents this matter so fairly and clearly that nothing better can be done than to repeat it. It is especially applicable to Washoe county:

"In the absence of dew and moisture, malaria does not exist in the clear dry atmosphere. The days are mild and pleasant, and the sunshine, clear and bright, gives cheerfulness everywhere. The nights are cool and invigorating, never sultry and close. On account of the lack of humidity, the extremes of heat and cold are not so perceptible as in most climates. No heat is oppressive in any part of the State. Summer evenings are always cool and pleasant, and serve as a tonic for the following day. In winter the mercury falls, at times, to zero, and in some localities below, but with all that the winters are never severe, and many days, at times months, are like Spring.

"Light thunder showers occur in the Summer months, leaving a delightful, cool and refreshing atmosphere. Taken all in all, the climate of Nevada cannot be surpassed. It has more of pleasant sunshine than any other portion of the United States. If people in the East only knew of our climate, they would prefer it to Southern California."

DEVELOPMENT.

The following from Assessor Stoddard's report for 1888 will surprise many who regard this country as a frozen waste:

Land under cultivation in 1887	8,500 acres
Wheat sown in 1887	2,040 "
Barley sown in 1887	1,320 "
Area of agricultural land	230,000 "
" " grazing	400,000 "
" " timber	115,000 "
" " mineral	20,000 "
Assessed value of real estate	$3,212,415
Assessed value of personal prop.	1,414,850

Should any of the readers of the Record unacquainted with Nevada, but impressed with a common prejudice against the State, as being cold and barren, feel inclined to doubt the above description, as having been written on a warm day, a visit to Reno, and a call on Wm. Thompson, Esq., or any member of the Board of Trade in that thriving little city, will serve to convince them that all said is not only true, but that the Record has drawn it very truthfully, and have said much more in praise of this pleasant land. The county seat and principal business centre of Washoe county is Reno.

TWO ORATIONS.

Tom Fitch to Orate at Reno and Carson.

Thomas Fitch will deliver two orations December 24th, the first at Reno and the other at Carson. Immediately after his oration at Reno, Hymers will hitch up his fastest team and drive Mr. Fitch to Carson where he must arrive at 8:30 in the evening, at which time he is to deliver his oration, the Carson Post having postponed its literary exercises until evening in order to have the pleasure of hearing the silver-tongued speaker.

A FAMOUS BATTLE-GROUND.

On the banks of the Tippecanoe, a small stream which enters the Washoe River in Indiana, was fought the terrible battle of Tippecanoe.

In this great struggle of frontier times, the allied western Indians under the chieftainship of Elskawatawa, the "Prophet" were defeated in November, 1811, by the Americans under the command of Gen. Wm. H. Harrison.

It was a desperate, hard-fought battle, and much depended upon the result. Had the Indians been successful, all barriers of defence for the early settlers would have been overthrown and the deadly tomahawk would have been active in the rapid extermination of the remaining pioneers. On the other hand the fortunate termination of the contest put an end to further attempts at open warfare by the Indians. The rich territory, so long overrun by hostile savages, was thrown open for settlement, which rapidly occurred as soon as the news of the great victory became widespread.

Naturally great praise was rendered to the success and intrepid bravery of Gen. Harrison and he was honored in many ways. He afterwards served as Commander of the Army of the Northwest, and when Indiana was admitted to Statehood, he was selected to represent the State in the United States Senate. In 1840 he was elected President and his unfortunate demise occurred shortly after being inaugurated.

The forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Tippecanoe found the gallant grand-son of "Old Tip" leading his forces to a great political victory which resulted in the selection of Gen. Ben. Harrison as President of the United States.

The Harrison have been a hardy race of men, sprung from old log cabin stock, which is a sufficient guarantee of its genuineness wherever found. Realizing the truth of this, great effort has been made to re-discover some of the secrets contained in the old log cabin stock of useful articles. As the result, the famous Old Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, universally regarded as the best Spring tonic and blood cleanser has been found. Not satisfied with the world-wide esteem which is held for Warner's Safe Cure, the only cure for kidney diseases, the proprietor is willing to do all that is possible to establish Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla as foremost among household articles on account of its purity and effectiveness.

After all, each individual has, at all times, the great battle of life or death to fight, and for security attention must be given to the best weapons which science can offer humanity in the great contest.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee - The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway - Splendid Sewerage - Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
